

DNR Program

Indiana Department of Natural Resources
Falls of the Ohio State Park
201 West Riverside Drive
Clarksville, IN 47129

Archaeology Day at the Falls of the Ohio

September 5, 2009
10:00 AM-4:00 PM

The Falls of the Ohio Archaeological Society presents a day of archaeological activities for adults and children of all ages!

- Want to know what a particular object was used for or how old it is?
Bring your prehistoric and historic artifacts for identification
- Learn how prehistoric and historic artifacts functioned by using them yourself
- Make a pottery vessel to take home with you
- Throw prehistoric darts with an atlatl
- Watch flintknappers make prehistoric stone tools
- View interpretive poster and artifact displays about the prehistoric and historic pasts of the Falls area
- Participate in a mock dig
- Learn how an archaeological site is formed
- Ask questions of professional archaeologists
- Learn how to become actively involved in local archaeology and how to become a steward of the past

$2 parking fee for outdoor activities

Special Guest Speaker!

2:00 in the Auditorium

$5 admission to Interpretive Center

For more information call (812) 280-9970

News reporter contact: Bett Etenohan, Falls of the Ohio State Park, 812-280-8689